

The editorial board of the scientific collection “Culture of the Word” accepts for publication original, previously unpublished scientific-theoretical, popular science, research articles on the problems of the Ukrainian language, reviews, materials dedicated to prominent linguists, anniversaries.

Publication in the collection is free of charge.

The editorial board of the scientific collection “Culture of the Word” supports the Budapest Open Access Initiative, which promotes the accelerated development of science and according to the principles of which all the content of the collection is freely accessible and free of charge for the user or his institution. Users are allowed to read, download, copy, distribute (in a way that does not violate copyright), print, search or refer to the full text of the article in this collection without asking permission from the publisher or author.